

INDIAN OCEAN & SOUTH ASIA RESEARCH NETWORK

Postgraduate Workshop

The Indian Ocean and South Asia Research Network at UTS is pleased to invite you to participate in a Postgraduate Workshop with

Prof. Sugata Bose
Harvard University

‘A Hundred Horizons: Colonialism, Globalization and Oceans’

Wednesday, 18th August
2 – 4.30 pm

UTS Bldg 10 (235 Jones St), Level 5, Room 425

Contact & Submission:

Cornelia.Betzler@uts.edu.au

P: 02 9514 2768

Submission Deadline:

Monday, 16 August

Professor Sugata Bose is a Gardiner Professor of Oceanic History and Affairs at Harvard University and works on South Asian history, especially in the context of global and colonial history.

Students working on colonialism, globalisation and South Asia are encouraged to apply for participation in the workshop.

Format:

Applicants are required to submit a title and short abstract outlining their research. Please define a specific research or methodological question you would like to discuss with Professor Bose.

The document will be handed to Professor Bose before the workshop.

Everyone is also cordially invited to attend professor Bose’s lecture, which will be the IOSARN Annual Lecture, on the 19 August at 6 pm (UTS, Bldg 2, Level 4, Room 11):

‘The Idea of Asia in Tagore and his Times’

Further information on IOSARN: www.iosarn.com